Do You Need a Curtain Stretcher?

This frame for drying Lace Curtains and other articles desired straight and smooth, such as Shawls and Blankets, is most complete. It is easily adjusted to any size within the dimensions of the frame, which, when at full length and width, is six by twelve feet. There are six rails, each six feet in length. Four of them can be used for sash curtains and articles under six feet square.

For long curtains two rails are joined together with bolt and splice block for each side, thus making a rail twelve feet in length. The cams at one end fasten the cross rail at right angles, while the cross rail at the other end is fastened by clamps, permitting an easy adjustment. The pins, set in a groove, are beneath the surface of the rail, as shown in the illustration of cross section, thereby not interfering with the handling or storing of the frame.

HOW IDA SUTTON DIED

Physicians Tell It At the Inquest Today.

THE STORY OF HER MOTHER

The Father and Brother of the Dead Woman Tell What They Know of It In Court Today—The Powders Were Purchased, and Evidently Taken—The Relation of Kountz to Deceased—His Daughter Remembers An Interview At Their House.

The mysterious death of Ida May Sutton at the home of her employer, Henry Goodwin, Sixth street, Friday night, as detailed in the NEWS REVIEW caused great excitement in the sister cities Saturday night and yesterday, and was the topic of general conversation.

The accused man, Jacob Kountz, is very ill at his residence in Wells-ville, and is being guarded by the police. The warrant was served on Saturday afternoon, but Kountz was too ill to be taken to jail. His condition will, in all probability, prevent his being confined at city hall until after the hearing is over, and he will escape the jail if the verdict is in his favor.

The question of holding an inquest in Wellsville was decided as illegal and it was finally arranged to have it heard before Squire Rose at 8 o'clock this morning. A post mortem examination of the remains of the girl was also decided necessary and Doctor Hobbs, the attending physician, assisted by Doctors Farr, Holland and McFarland, of Wellsville, opened the body about 9 o'clock Saturday night.
An examination showed unmistakable signs of poison and at the conclusion of the examination the stomach, liver and one kidney was removed and sealed in a case and an analysis called for.

Miss Mary Sutton was engaged by Squire Rose as official stenographer, and took the proceedings of the inquest in full.

A half dozen witnesses were present, and Squire Rose's office was crowded when the inquest began this morning. It was whispered about that the theory of suicide would be advanced, and some interesting evidence was expected. How this rumor was carried out can be seen by the testimony offered.

It was almost 8:30 o'clock when the inquest begun. Mrs. Henry Goodwin was the first witness sworn. She testified that Miss Sutton had been at the Goodwin residence seven months in the capacity of housekeeper, and during that time her character and general habits were good. For the first eight weeks she was never out of the house, and during her entire stay she had but one gentleman for company, Mr. Kountz. Witness never heard her speak of anyone else.

He came up on Sunday evenings and they seemed to be very much attached to each other. At the very most he was not there more than seven or eight times. He was there for the last time Sunday, March 10. Miss Sutton never spoke of Mr. Kountz, except in the very highest terms. He always treated her as a lady. I have heard her say that she and Mr. Kountz were not married. She was never ill at my house before this time. She took sick at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. She went out Thursday night and said to my husband that she would be back in a few minutes. She returned at 12 o'clock. Did not seem to be sick next morning. When she was taken ill she had headache and vomiting. Said she had taken a headache.

Afterward she played with the baby. When I found her sick upstairs in bed she said she had never been so sick before in her life.
The powder, she said, was very bitter.
I gave her the white of an egg and camphor and she said she felt better.
I sent for Doctor Hobbs and got his prescription filled. At 9 o'clock she seemed better, but was taken worse afterward, and weakened rapidly.
She told the doctor that she had taken six headache powders, and had burned the box. She said positively that she had taken nothing but the powders.
Her finger nails and lips were blue and her eyes were a greenish yellow.

Mrs. Lizzie Logan, Sixth street, was sworn. "Never saw Miss Sutton until she came to Goodwin's. I was present during her illness from 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. When I went she was sick and vomiting, and appeared very blue; was not there until she died. She said she had taken six headache powders; did not hear her conversation with Mrs.
Goodwin."

William Sutton said he was the father of the deceased, and that his daughter was about 29 years of age.
Before she went to Goodwin's she had been employed at Hassey's in Liverpool. She left home because of Jacob Kountz. "We told Kountz he could not come to see her again. He had a great influence with her, and had been keeping company with her for three years before we knew it, but we thought then it would end. She told us that during the last seven months her health was not good, being subject to violent attacks of headache. She suffered from these before she left home. We went to Goodwin's Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when she looked pale and bad, but I did not see any blueness of her finger nails. I was excited. I heard her say in answer to her mother's question 'what has that old Kountz done to you?' and she replied, almost with her last breath, 'he killed me,' and repeated it the third time. Ida told her mother Kountz had told her frequently to come down, and they would get married, and she went down Thursday night. What happened at Kountz's I don't know."

Mrs. Susan Sutton, mother of the girl, is 53 years of age, and said that a year last November her daughter went to live at Ed Hassey's. Kountz came to the house as her company for a half year or more. "We heard he was not the right kind of a man, and he was simply trying to ruin her. I asked him what his intention was, and he grew angry, and left the house.
Ida said then that his actions showed what he was, and she would have nothing more to do with him. Next day I received a letter from her assuring us that she would have nothing more to do with him. I also got a note with some very bad language in it. The last day of campmeeting Kountz went to Charles Stevenson's and got her to go in a buggy with him. The Sunday afterward she said she was going to marry Kountz in a month, and nothing but death could prevent it.
She told us many a time that he had promised to marry her. The doctor was at Mr. Goodwin's when I came Friday evening. She was very pale.
The doctor was sitting near the bed when I went in, and she said 'ma is that you.' I said yes, and she took my hands. I said 'Ida what's the matter here,' and she replied 'ma, I'm awful sick, I'm going to die.' I told her she would get well. I saw she was going to die, and that there were some things I ought to ask her. Mrs. Goodwin had told me she was out until 12 o'clock the night before. Ida told me she had been to Kountz and he had been using her badly; that he had killed her. She did not tell me about the headache powder. She was subject to headaches once a month or often, and was formerly a healthy girl. She never in these four years had any other company." Mrs. Sutton broke down several times during the recital of her story, and seemed greatly grieved at the death of her daughter.

Mrs. Goodwin was recalled and said she "was present at the girl's bedside when she died, but had gone out of the room to get some water when this conversation took place. Ida often had headaches at our house. Her condition a week before her death was healthy."

George Sutton, a brother, of deceased testified that four years ago he saw Kountz and Ida coming out of the church. Later he heard about Kountz, and tried to dissuade Ida. "Kountz came to the house one night, and I ordered him out. He wanted to argue it, and I told him to go out or I would break him in two, and throw him out.
I heard of her going to campmeeting with him. I came to my sister's bedside on Friday evening, and went in, and stood by the bedside, and she said 'O George,' (Here the witness broke down, sobbing pitifully at the recollection of the sad scene.) Then she said 'if I had only taken your advice I wouldn't be here.' I heard mother question her," and then he gave the conversation as his parents had already testified.

Mrs. Nettie O. Sterrett—I reside in the same house with my father, Jacob Kountz. Ida Sutton was a very good girl, and I always heard Kountz speak well of her. I saw her last on Tuesday afternoon.
She came to my house, and wanted to see Kountz. He was not home and she came back to Mrs. Goodwin's.
She came back Thursday evening. Kountz came to talk to us in the bed room.
He spoke of Miss Sutton being there but nothing more.

Dr. W. S. McFarland—I am Sutton's family physician, but I have no knowledge of the relations of the deceased and Kountz except what I have heard. I have treated her, but I don't remember what it was for. I can't say that I have ever treated her for headache. The last time I saw her was during last summer. I am one of the physicians

SQUIRES MORLEY AND ROSE

It Will Be After Election—Many Surprises—Challis, Stewart, Grafton and Peake are the Republican Candidates For Council—Harris Will Keep His Place on the Water Works Board.

When the polls opened Saturday afternoon the faithful Republicans who guarded the polling places were confident that the vote would be light, and such it proved, the total being 1,018. The result of the primaries is the following:

First ward, first precinct—W. L.
Smith and George W. Thomas, board of education, 54; water works trustees —J. H. Harris, 26; Charles Berg, 16.
Council—James Challis, 20, Oliver Vodrey 28, Assessor—J. W. Kissinger, 23; W. V. Blake, 26. Trustee—Thos.
Lloyd, 54. Treasurer—W. H. Griggs, 54. Justice of the peace—J. N. Rose, 28; George Morley, 27, G. Y. Travis, Second ward—Smith, 186; Thomas, 186; Harris, 114; Berg, 52. Council—Chal Stewart, 186. Assessor—Frank Pittenger, 87; John E. Anderson, 93; Lloyd, 186; Griggs, 186; Rose, 111;

Morley, 98; Travis, 76; Beardmore, 52.

Third Ward—Smith, 234; Thomas,
George W. Croxall, 109; John Grafton, 125. Assessor—J. C. Allison, 89; R.
G. Boyd, 131; Lloyd, 234; Griggs, 234; Rose, 115; Morley, 125; Travis, 63; Beardmore, 70.

Fourth ward, first precinct—Smith, 188; Thomas, 188; Harris, 103; Berg, 92. Council—E. H. Croxall, 109; John Peake, 76. Assessor—James Ford, 188; Lloyd, 188; Griggs, 188; Rose, 119;
Morley, 95; Travis, 65; Beardmore, 63.
Second precinct—Smith 129; Thomas, 129; Harris, 57; Berg, 57; Croxall, 46; Peake, 82; Ford, 129; Lloyd, 129; Griggs, 129; Rose, 54; Morley, 34; Travis, 37; Beardmore, 79.

The totals for the day show the following:

Smith, 1,018; Thomas, 1,018; Harris, 545; Berg, 361; Challis, 168; Vodrey, 95; Stewart, 186; Croxall, 109; Grafton, 125; Croxall, 155; Peake, 158; Kissinger, 120; Blake, 148; Pittenger, 87; Anderson, 93; Allison, 89; Boyd, 131; Ford, 317; Lloyd, 1,018; Griggs, 1,018; Rose, 545; Morley, 510; Travis, 312; Beardmore, 381. For cemetery trustee Chal Peterson was accorded every vote cast.

There were few contests, and little interest, but where the battle raged it was with determination. The fight for water works trustee amounted to almost nothing, and in the first ward there seemed to be no contest whatever for the vacant place in council, although the Vodrey men carried the East End. The result in the Third ward was unexpected, as it was generally believed that George W.
Croxall, who made a splendid record two years ago, would be returned. The closest contest of the day was in the Fourth, where the friends of Peake turned out in crowds to give him the nomination. The Croxall men were on hand after 3 o'clock, and made matters as pleasant as possible for their man, and he came within three votes of tying the West End grocer. In the township the battle was for justice, and the four candidates fought hard for the honor and the amount it yields. It was freely predicted a week before election that Ex-Mayor George Morley would be among the successful. William Beardmore was also looked upon as a promising candidate, but Squire Rose was ever in the way of both, while it was generally believed that Squire Travis was not working his best for the place. The result retires the squire and gives his place to Mr. Morley, who will defend the right very well at the polls on election day.

Allegheny, and, with his family, will reside in the city.

M. McCuen shipped his effects to this city Saturday, and has brought his family here from Tiffin.

Among the new arrivals in the city are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bostwick, of Columbus. Mr. Bostwick will have charge of the light plant as manager, and will undoubtedly be successful in the venture, as he has a reputation in this line. He leaves a responsible position in Columbus to accept the local offer.

Squire Travis had three cases booked for trial today but continued all of them. The trial of right of property in the Smith-Schneider case was laid over until Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The case of Thomas Mears Sons versus Anna Wooliscraft for $175 was

The Hodson-Taylor attachment case was continued until March 29, owing to Mrs. Taylor being unable to get here.

Wants to Fight Scheller.

Bert Scheller, the wrestler, received a challenge from a Wellsville potter today, but the man who handles clay is not after a wrestling match. He wants to fight, and Scheller, who has been training down, believes he will give him an opportunity to defend himself although it is said that he is a larger man. Scheller has also accepted the challenge of a man named Ford who is anxious to wrestle.

Occupied Cells In the City Jail Saturday Night—Thomas McClure and Thomas Ford Were the Victims of Bad Whiskey Who Fell Into the Clutches of the Police.

City hall was comparatively quiet on Saturday night, although a few unfortunate found their way to the small meshed net of the police.

Thomas McClure, who was arrested on Friday night and gave a donation the next day because he was drunk and disturbed a sick neighbor, was taken again on Saturday night.
Officer Supplee answered the alarm with the patrol, and found that Mc-Clure was behaving in much the same manner as on the other occasion. He paid $6.75, some of the change from the $20 bill he gave Mayor Gilbert on Saturday morning, and was permitted to depart.

Thomas Ford was drunk and disorderly when Officer Badgley heard him, and because he refused to go home was walked to the coop. He did not like the quarters, but the kind-hearted police could not think of turning him out on Saturday night, and he was given an opportunity to explain by Mayor Gilbert. He could not convince the mayor of his innocence, and was in consequence asked to pay $6.00. He gave an order on his employer.

The patrol was hurried to the polling place, corner Broadway and Sixth, Saturday night in answer to an alarm, but no man was captured. It seemed that someone was kicking at the door of the polling place, and the noise became so annoying that the patrol was called to put him in a place where his kicks could not be heard.

Officer Supplee took John De Laundes to the workhouse this morning.
The man has a big fine against his name, and will remain in the vicinity of Canton much longer than any other Liverpool people now in confinement there.

The Ladies Did Not Vote.

The ladies did not flock to the polls on Saturday afternoon anxious to exercise the right of suffrage by casting a ballot for members of the board of education. They remained at home in the majority of instances, and it is believed that the vote of Mrs. Charles Hanley cast in the first precinct of the First ward was the first vote ever cast by a lady in the city. As far as could be learned it was the only vote put in the box by a lady on Saturday.

Their First Ware.

The first kiln of glost ware at the East End pottery was drawn Friday, and the first kiln of decorated ware came out today. The glost is as clean and smooth as any ever produced in the city, and the decorated ware is handsome and of fine quality. Another kiln will be fired soon in order to have a full line of samples for their representative, J. M. Bursner. He expects to start out Wednesday in order to catch what spring trade remains. The management of the East End pottery can feel confident of success if they continue to turn out such ware as has already been produced, and the plant will no doubt be able to hold its own with any in the city.

Some New Residents.

M. McCaul has moved his household goods from Reissing, Pa., to this city.

reside in the city.

This frame for drying Lace Curtains and other articles desired straight and smooth, such as Shawls and Blankets, is most complete. It is easily adjusted to any size within the dimensions of the frame, which, when at full length and width, is six by twelve feet. There are six rails, each six feet in length. Four of them can be used for sash curtains and articles under six feet square.

For long curtains two rails are joined together with bolt and splice block for each side, thus making a rail twelve feet in length. The cams at one end fasten the cross rail at right angles, while the cross rail at the other end is fastened by clamps, permitting an easy adjustment. The pins, set in a groove, are beneath the surface of the rail, as shown in the illustration of cross section, thereby not interfering with the handling or storing of the frame.

Physicians Tell It At the Inquest Today.

The Father and Brother of the Dead Woman Tell What They Know of It In Court Today—The Powders Were Purchased, and Evidently Taken—The Relation of Kountz to Deceased—His Daughter Remembers An Interview At Their House.

The mysterious death of Ida May Sutton at the home of her employer, Henry Goodwin, Sixth street, Friday night, as detailed in the News Review caused great excitement in the sister cities Saturday night and yesterday, and was the topic of general conversation.

The accused man, Jacob Kountz, is very ill at his residence in Wellsville, and is being guarded by the police. The warrant was served on Saturday afternoon, but Kountz was too ill to be taken to jail. His condition, in all probability, prevent his being confined at city hall until after the hearing is over, and he will escape the jail if the verdict is in his favor.

The question of holding an inquest in Wellsville was decided as illegal and it was finally arranged to have it heard before Squire Rose at 8 o'clock this morning. A post mortem examination of the remains of the girl was also decided necessary and Doctor Hobbs, the attending physician, assisted by Doctors Tarr, Holland and McFarland, of Wellsville, opened the body about 9 o'clock Saturday night. An examination showed unmistakable signs of poison and at the conclusion of the examination the stomach, liver and one kidney was removed and sealed in a case and an analysis called for.

Miss Mary Sutton was engaged by Squire Rose as official stenographer, and took the proceedings of the inquest in full.

A half dozen witnesses were present, and Squire Rose's office was crowded when the inquest began this morning. It was whispered about that the theory of suicide would be advanced, and some interesting evidence was expected. How this rumor was carried out can be seen by the testimony offered.

It was almost 8:30 o'clock when the inquest began. Mrs. Henry Goodwin was the first witness sworn. She testified that Miss Sutton had been at the Goodwin residence seven months in the capacity of housekeeper, and during that time her character and general habits were good. For the first eight weeks she was never out of the house, and during her entire stay she had but one gentleman for company, Mr. Kountz. Witness never heard her speak of anyone else. He came up on Sunday evenings and they seemed to be very much attached to each other. At the very most he was not there more than seven or eight times. He was there for the last time Sunday, March 10. Miss Sutton never spoke of Mr. Kountz except in the very highest terms. He always treated her as a lady. I have heard her say that she and Mr. Kountz were not married. She was never ill at my house before this time. She took sick at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. She went out Thursday night and said to my husband that she would be back in a few minutes. She returned at 12 o'clock. Did not seem to be sick next morning. When she was taken ill she had headache and vomiting. Said she had taken a headache. Afterward she played with the baby. When I found her sick upstairs in bed she said she had never been so sick before in her life. The powder, she said, was very bitter. I gave her the white of an egg and camphor and she said she felt better. I sent for Doctor Hobbs and got his prescription filled. At 9 o'clock she seemed better, but was taken worse afterward, and weakened rapidly. She told the doctor that she had taken six headache powders, and had burned the box. She said positively that she had taken nothing but the powders. Her finger nails and lips were blue and her eyes were a greenish yellow.

Mrs. Lizzie Logan, Sixth street, was sworn. "Never saw Miss Sutton until she came to Goodwin's. I was present during her illness from 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. When I went she was sick and vomiting, and appeared very blue; was not there until she died. She said she had taken six headache powders; did not hear her conversation with Mrs. Goodwin."

William Sutton said he was the father of the deceased, and that his daughter was about 29 years of age. Before she went to Goodwin's she had been employed at Hassey's in Liverpool. She left home because of Jacob Kountz. "We told Kountz he could not come to see her again. He had a great influence with her, and had been keeping company with her for three years before we knew it, but we thought then it would end. She told us that during the last seven months her health was not good, being subject to violent attacks of headache. She suffered from these before she left home. We went to Goodwin's Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when she looked pale and bad, but I did not see any blueness of her finger nails. I was excited. I heard her say in answer to her mother's question 'what has that old Kountz done to you?' and she replied, almost with her last breath, 'he killed me,' and repeated it the third time. Ida told her mother Kountz had told her frequently to come down, and they would get married, and she went down Thursday night. What happened at Kountz's I don't know."

Mrs. Susan Sutton, mother of the girl, is 53 years of age, and said that a year last November her daughter went to live at Ed Hassey's. Kountz came to the house as her company for a half year or more. "We heard he was not the right kind of a man, and he was simply trying to ruin her. I asked him what his intention was, and he grew angry, and left the house. Ida said then that his actions showed what he was, and she would have nothing more to do with him. Next day I received a letter from her assuring us that she would have nothing more to do with him. I also got a note with some very bad language in it. The last day of campmeeting Kountz went to Charles Stevenson's and got her to go in a buggy with him. The Sunday afterward she said she was going to marry Kountz in a month, and nothing but death could prevent it. She told us many a time that he had promised to marry her. The doctor was at Mr. Goodwin's when I came Friday evening. She was very pale. The doctor was sitting near the bed when I went in, and she said 'ma is that you.' I said yes, and she took my hands. I said 'Ida what's the matter here,' and she replied 'ma, I'm awful sick, I'm going to die.' I told her she would get well. I saw she was going to die, and that there were some things I ought to ask her. Mrs. Goodwin had told me she was out until 12 o'clock the night before. Ida told me she had been to Kountz and he had been using her badly; that he had killed her. She did not tell me about the headache powder. She was subject to headaches once a month or oftener, and was formerly a healthy girl. She never in these four years had any other company." Mrs. Sutton broke down several times during the recital of her story, and seemed greatly grieved at the death of her daughter.

Mrs. Goodwin was recalled and said she "was present at the girl's bedside when she died, but had gone out of the room to get some water when this conversation took place. Ida often had headaches at our house. Her condition a week before her death was healthy."

George Sutton, a brother, of deceased testified that four years ago he saw Kountz and Ida coming out of the church. Later he heard about Kountz, and tried to dissuade Ida. "Kountz came to the house one night, and I ordered him out. He wanted to argue it, and I told him to go out or I would break him in two, and throw him out. I heard of her going to campmeeting with him. I came to my sister's bedside on Friday evening, and went in, and stood by the bedside, and she said 'O George,' (Here the witness broke down, sobbing pitifully at the recollection of the sad scene.) Then she said 'if I had only taken your advice I wouldn't be here.' I heard mother question her," and then he gave the conversation as his parents had already testified.

Mrs. Nettie O. Sterrett—I reside in the same house with my father, Jacob Kountz. Ida Sutton was a very good girl, and I always heard Kountz speak well of her. I saw her last on Tuesday afternoon. She came to my house, and wanted to see Kountz. He was not home and she came back to Mrs. Goodwin's. She came back Thursday evening. Kountz came to talk to us in the bed room. He spoke of Miss Sutton being there but nothing more.

Dr. W. S. McFarland—I am Sutton's family physician, but I have no knowledge of the relations of the deceased and Kountz except what I have heard. I have treated her, but I don't remember what it was for. I can't say that I have ever treated her for headache. The last time I saw her was during last summer. I am one of the physicians

It Will be After Election—Many Surprises—Challis, Stewart, Grafton and Peake are the Republican Candidates For Council—Harris Will Keep His Place on the Water Works Board.

When the polls opened Saturday afternoon the faithful Republicans who guarded the polling places were confident that the vote would be light, and such it proved, the total being 1,018. The result of the primaries is the following:

First ward, first precinct—W. L. Smith and George W. Thomas, board of education, 54; water works trustees—J. H. Harris, 26; Charles Berg, 16; Council—James Challis, 20; Oliver Vodrey 28; Assessor—J. W. Kissinger, 23; W. V. Blake, 26; Trustee—Thos. Lloyd, 54; Treasurer—W. H. Griggs, 54; Justice of the peace—J. N. Rose, 28; George Morley, 27; G. Y. Travis, 15; William Beardmore 20. Second precinct—Smith, 229; Thomas, 277; Harris, 116; Berg, 79; Challis, 148; Vodrey, 67; Kissinger, 97; Blake, 122; Lloyd, 227; Griggs, 227; Rose, 118; Morley, 101; Travis, 56; Beardmore, 97.

Second ward—Smith, 186; Thomas, 186; Harris, 114; Berg, 52; Council—Chas Stewart, 186; Assessor—Frank Pittenger, 87; John E. Anderson, 93; Lloyd, 186; Griggs, 186; Rose, 111; Morley, 98; Travis, 76; Beardmore, 52.

Third Ward—Smith, 234; Thomas, 234; Harris, 133; Berg, 95; Council—George W. Croxall, 109; John Grafton, 125; Assessor—J. C. Allison, 89; R. G. Boyd, 131; Lloyd, 234; Griggs, 234; Rose, 115; Morley, 125; Travis, 63; Beardmore, 70.

Fourth ward, first precinct—Smith, 188; Thomas, 188; Harris, 103; Berg, 92; Council—E. H. Croxall, 109; John Peake, 76; Assessor—James Ford, 188; Lloyd, 188; Griggs, 188; Rose, 119; Morley, 95; Travis, 65; Beardmore, 63. Second precinct—Smith 129; Thomas, 129; Harris, 57; Berg, 57; Croxall, 46; Peake, 82; Ford, 129; Lloyd, 129; Griggs, 129; Rose, 54; Morley, 34; Travis, 37; Beardmore, 79.

Smith, 1,018; Thomas, 1,018; Harris, 545; Berg, 361; Challis, 168; Vodrey, 95; Stewart, 186; Croxall, 109; Grafton, 125; Croxall, 155; Peake, 158; Kissinger, 129; Blake, 148; Pittenger, 87; Anderson, 93; Allison, 89; Boyd, 131; Ford, 317; Lloyd, 1,018; Griggs, 1,018; Rose, 545; Morley, 510; Travis, 312; Beardmore, 381. For cemetery trustee Chas Peterson was accorded every vote cast.

There were few contests, and little interest, but where the battle raged it was with determination. The fight for water works trustee amounted to almost nothing, and in the first ward there seemed to be no contest whatever for the vacant place in council, although the Vodrey men carried the East End. The result in the Third ward was unexpected, as it was generally believed that George W. Croxall, who made a splendid record two years ago, would be returned. The closest contest of the day was in the Fourth, where the friends of Peake turned out in crowds to give him the nomination. The Croxall men were on hand after 3 o'clock, and made matters as pleasant as possible for their man, and he came within three votes of tying the West End grocer. In the township the battle was for justice, and the four candidates fought hard for the honor and the amount it yields. It was freely predicted a week before election that Ex-Mayor George Morley would be among the successful. William Beardmore was also looked upon as a promising candidate, but Squire Rose was ever in the way of both, while it was generally believed that Squire Travis was not working his best for the place. The result retires the squire and gives his place to Mr. Morley, who will defend the right very well at the polls on election day. John Queen was the only candidate on the ticket for township assessor, and was neglected by his friends as well as his enemies. When the vote was counted it was found that his portion was made up of eight ballots scattered in all parts of the city. There seems to be no reason for this neglect.

Three of the successful aspirants were defeated at the primaries a year ago, and are thanking their lucky stars that they had experience to aid them in the fight. Chas Stewart was badly beaten in the Second last year by Councilman Kent, and W. V. Blake and Robert Boyd went down in the battle. One candidate, John Peake, was a member of the council in which George W. Croxall made his

Squire Travis had three cases booked for trial today but continued all of them. The trial of right of property in the Smith-Schneider case was laid over until Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The Hodson-Taylor attachment case was continued until March 29, owing to Mrs. Taylor being unable to get here.

Bert Scheller, the wrestler, received a challenge from a Wellsville potter today, but the man who handles clay is not after a wrestling match. He wants to fight, and Scheller, who has been training down, believes he will give him an opportunity to defend himself although it is said that he is a larger man. Scheller has also accepted the challenge of a man named Ford who is anxious to wrestle.

record, yet one won at the primaries yesterday, and the other was defeated.

One clear result of the election was additional proof that the average voter finds no duty at the polls in what is generally known as an "off year," yet he has comparatively as much of a duty to perform at that time as if he was casting his ballot at the most important election of the year. It is necessary to have good officials at all times.

ADMITTED TO BOND.

Judge Young Will Give Witzeman His Liberty For $10,000.

Lisbon, March 18.—Court convened at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and Prosecutor Speaker asked Judge Young to admit to bond Ben Witzeman, the Leetonia man who is charged with the murder of Conkle, the Canton man. It was urged that, although Witzeman was charged with first degree murder, the proof of the crime was not so evident but that he could be safely admitted to bond. The prosecutor advised that the bond be made large enough to insure the prisoner's return and Judge Young decided to make it $10,000. Witzeman was returned to jail, and expects to get bond by tomorrow morning.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Miss Anna Pickersgill Passed Quietly Away This Morning.

Miss Anna Pickersgill died suddenly at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Pilgrim, on Walnut street, this morning.

The lady has not been well for some time, but was so much better this morning that she sat in a chair. Ten minutes before her death it was noticed that she had been seized with a severe illness, and her friends put her in bed. She died almost without a struggle in a very few minutes. Mrs. Pilgrim and a brother, a banker in Carnegie, Pa., are the only relatives in this part of the country. Mr. Pickersgill was notified, and is expected here tonight. The remains will be taken to Steubenville on Wednesday morning for interment. Deceased was 70 years of age.

Their First Ware.

The first kiln of glost ware at the East End pottery was drawn Friday, and the first kiln of decorated ware came out today. The glost is as clean and smooth as any ever produced in the city, and the decorated ware is handsome and of fine quality. Another kiln will be fired soon in order to have a full line of samples for their representative, J. M. Burnsner. He expects to start out Wednesday in order to catch what spring trade remains. The management of the East End pottery can feel confident of success if they continue to turn out such ware as has already been produced, and the plant will no doubt be able to hold its own with any in the city.

Some New Residents.

M. McCaul has moved his household goods from Reissing, Pa., to this city.

John Martin has moved here from Allegheny, and, with his family, will reside in the city.

M. McCuen shipped his effects to this city Saturday, and has brought his family here from Tiffin.

Among the new arrivals in the city are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bostwick, of Columbus. Mr. Bostwick will have charge of the light plant as manager, and will undoubtedly be successful in the venture, as he has a reputation in this line. He leaves a responsible position in Columbus to accept the local offer.

ONLY A PAIR OF OFFENDERS

Occupied Cells in the City Jail Saturday Night—Thomas McClure and Thomas Ford Were the Victims of Bad Whiskey Who Fell Into the Clutches of the Police.

City hall was comparatively quiet on Saturday night, although a few unfortunates found their way to the small meshed net of the police.

Thomas McClure, who was arrested on Friday night, and gave a donation the next day because he was drunk and disturbed a sick neighbor, was taken again on Saturday night. Officer Supplee answered the alarm with the patrol, and found that McClure was behaving in much the same manner as on the other occasion. He paid $6.75, some of the change from the $20 bill he gave Mayor Gilbert on Saturday morning, and was permitted to depart.

Thomas Ford was drunk and disorderly when Officer Badgley heard him, and because he refused to go home was walked to the coop. He did not like the quarters, but the kind-hearted police could not think of turning him out on Saturday night, and he was given an opportunity to explain by Mayor Gilbert. He could not convince the mayor of his innocence, and was in consequence asked to pay $6.60. He gave an order on his employer.

The patrol was hurried to the polling place, corner Broadway and Sixth, Saturday night in answer to an alarm, but no man was captured. It seemed that someone was kicking at the door of the polling place, and the noise became so annoying that the patrol was called to put him in a place where his kicks could not be heard.

Officer Supplee took John De Laundes to the workhouse this morning. The man has a big fine against his name, and will remain in the vicinity of Canton much longer than any other Liverpool people now in confinement there.

The Ladies Did Not Vote.

The ladies did not flock to the polls on Saturday afternoon anxious to exercise the right of suffrage by casting a ballot for members of the board of education. They remained at home in the majority of instances, and it is believed that the vote of Mrs. Charles Hanley cast in the first precinct of the First ward was the first vote ever cast by a lady in the city. As far as could be learned it was the only vote put in the box by a lady on Saturday.

They Were Separated.

A Liverpool man was standing near a church door in Wellsville last night when a young woman came out. In a moment they were arguing, and in a minute a fight was in progress. The girl struck at the man, and he in his efforts to keep her away from him was thrown to the pavement. What looked like a disturbance for the police was quelled by friends separating the combatants. It is said that both reside in this city.

Some of the Sick.

Miss Del Cochran, who was mentioned the other day as improving, is much worse and in a serious condition.

Miss Jennie Fern, of East End, is confined to her home by illness.

Squire Beardmore was unable to look after his nomination Saturday owing to illness, and is still under the weather.

Good Work.

Mr. S. J. Crawford, agent for the New York Life Insurance company, is the recipient of a handsome prize from headquarters at Columbus, on account of writing, in the month of December, 1894, the greatest number of applications booked by any agent in the state during that month.

A Young Old Man.

Chris Ackerman, of 218 Third street, is celebrating his sixth-fourth birthday today. Chris was a veteran in the late war, but, despite his service and three-score years, would not be taken for a man who had passed the half-century mark.

Not Often Seen.

Employees of the railroad company stared with open eyes this morning when two car loads of wild Texas cattle were pulled into the yards. The cattle were shipped here from Chicago, and are the first to be seen in many weeks.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, MAR. 18.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

The country hopes that Secretary Gresham will retrieve some of the errors of the Hawaiian disgrace now that the Spanish episode has appeared.

If all the portraits now being published of Napoleon were made from life it is but right to suppose that the

AN INTELLIGENT ANSWER.

A correspondent asked the American Economist why the wages of free trade England were higher than those of protected Germany, Italy and Russia, and received the following.

"England has all the tariff for revenue she can have, but no protection to labor. She raises about $400,000,000 through tariff on necessities which she can't make. She can't have a tariff on cloth, boots or shoes or cutlery, because they are cheaper there than anywhere else. She wouldn't get a cent from it. We, having high wages, can put a protective tariff on these things and keep our wages up. England has a high tariff on coffee (4 cents), tea (12 cents), tobacco (85 cents), whisky ($2.50). We put a protective tariff on things which our high-priced laborers make and keep wages up. In England, France and Germany they put a tariff on necessities and the working man pays them. He is not protected. Their tariffs do not raise
and not protective tariffs."

THE MAN IS AFTER THE OFFICE.

If there ever was a time in the history of American politics when the office was around hunting the man it was so long ago that the oldest of politicians have forgotten all about it.
The man hunts the office these days, and he hunts it with more fervor and energy than ever the sportsman sought for deer and bear. He must work early and late, drive over roads that are a disgrace to the county, and talk to all men who have a vote at their command. If he enters an office he must look sweet at the lady typewriter, and is expected to have a ready hand to shake with every one wanting to know him. In addition to all these things he must endure the pains and tortures of expectation and fear of defeat in its various forms and is thought to be so open handed that all mankind, particularly such as belong to his party, can ask for favor without fear of refusal. The lot of the candidate before the primaries is anything but easy, and he sleeps on a bed which is by no means soft and downy. It is hard work and they all toil with enough energy to merit success, but since it does not come, and the man is hunting the office, it remains for the people to turn down those who would stand in the second line, and select only those who are the

FATAL FIRE IN TOLEDO

Wabash Roundhouse Burned
and Engines Damaged.

THREE KILLED BY A FALLING WALL

Nine Persons Injured, One Probably Fatally—The Property Loss Estimated at
Two Cars Consumed—Other Fires.

TOLEDO, March 18.—The roundhouse of the Wabash Railroad company, in this city, located at the foot of South street on the dock front, has been burned to the ground. Three-quarters of an hour after the first alarm was sent in the southwest wall of the building, 60 feet in circumference, fell in, burying 12 men underneath it. Two of them were instantly killed, a third died a short time after being taken out of
hurt, one probably fatally. All but
Wabash.

The dead are: R. H. Bohlman, aged 56, painter, married, seven children, skull crushed, internally injured; J. J.
Preston, aged 35, car inspector, married, six children, back broken, skull crushed, killed instantly; John Bowen, aged 18, spectator, skull crushed, internally injured, killed instantly.

The injured are: F. H. Howard, general foreman, eastern division, head bruised, face cut, slightly burned, will recover; John Leary, machinist, leg broken, arm crushed, skull fractured, may die; Patrick McDonough, fireman, skull fractured, shoulder broken, will recover; Martin Greenburg, car repairer, head cut, will recover; Harry Zimmerman, painter, legs sprained, body bruised; Louis Becker, painter, head bruised, shoulder sprained; Henry Gendling, car repairer, head bruised and cut; T. C. Lauer, truck foreman, head and neck sprained, head cut; Casper Becker, painter, head and shoulder cut.

The fire was discovered by a resident of the neighborhood of the roundhouse, who saw a small flame burst out of the cupola of the building and he ran to the office of the general foreman directly across from the roundhouse and notified those in charge. General Foreman Howard summoned the company's private fire department, consisting of 15 men, to the scene, and a stream of water was directed toward the blazing cupola. A heavy wind was blowing and the fire soon ate its way down to the roof of the roundhouse.

When Fire Chief Mayo reached the fire he saw that there was danger of the flames reaching the oilhouse, repair shops and the Wabash elevator, all in close proximity, and he immediately sent in a general alarm.

Meanwhile the road's fire company had directed its efforts toward smothering the flames in the southeast end of the structure, which menaced the oil-house, and the fire at this point was held fairly in check. The roof was already ablaze and threatened to collapse every moment, but the falling of the walls was not at this time anticipated. The iron braces supporting the roof expanded in the intense heat and the frail frame covering gave way with a muffled roar, falling in on the stalled engines.

At this moment the southwest wall, 18 feet high and 18 inches thick, was seen tottering outward from the lateral pressure of the falling roof, and a yell went up to apprise of their danger the 15 men at work in this portion of the building. The warning came too late, and 12 of the men were buried in a pile of brick several feet high. That only two were killed outright was nothing short of miraculous. Streams of water were poured on the smoking debris, and as soon as possible the work of rescue began. Preston and Bowen were buried completely and were dead some time before their bodies were reached. They were badly crushed, Bowen's features being unrecognizable. Bohlman was taken out in an unconscious condition and removed to his home, where he died a few hours afterwards.

By this time half a dozen physicians had reached the scene and attention was directed towards caring for the injured. Leary, the machinist, was found to be the worst sufferer, and it was feared he would scarcely live out the day.
The others, though badly used up, will probably all recover.

The property loss is estimated at
house, which had a capacity of 20 locomotives, contained only six engines and these are all badly damaged. A Wheeling and Lake Erie coalcar and Baltimore and Ohio boxcar were consumed.

A Block Burned In Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, March 18.—The Worthington block, at the corner of Ontario and Noble streets, occupied by the World newspaper plant, the A. N. Kellogg Newspaper company, the Claffen Manufacturing company and Bandeau Bro's, has been destroyed by fire. Total loss over $140,000; insurance, over

MILLERSBURG, O., March 18.—The Holmes county infirmary, near this place, has been destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $25,000, upon which there was an insurance of $15,000. The 46 inmates of the institution were rescued with great difficulty, but all were taken out safely.

A Lumber Firm Fails.

MEDIA, Pa., March 18.—The personal property and stock of Rhodes & Wilcox, lumber and coal and grain dealers at Chester Heights, has been seized by the sheriff on executions issued on judg-

Pink Snow In Colorado.

DU BOIS, Col., March 18.—This locality is covered with snow an inch deep that is of a delicate pink hue. An examination under a mineral glass showed there was no dust or dirt mixed with the snow.

Heir to a Big Fortune.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 18.—Jack Kerry has left St. Louis City for Ireland in response to a cablegram informing him that he had fallen heir to an estate in County Kerry and £60,000 in the bank.

ITALY MUCH PLEASED.

Satisfied With Gov. McIntyre's Action in the Lynching Cases.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Expressions of satisfaction having been made by the Italian government at the steps taken by the Colorado authorities for the apprehension of the murderers of the Italians at Walsenburg, the diplomatic incident occasioned thereby is regarded here as closed for the present at least. That satisfaction exists is shown by the telegram that was sent
State Uhl to Governor McIntyre of Colorado. In this telegram Mr. Uhl set forth the expression of appreciation manifested on the part of Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador here, and
of his government, and of the federal government at the earnest effort made by the executive of Colorado to arrest the guilty parties.

The assistant secretary has received a reply from Governor McIntyre, in which that official said that the district attorney had informed him that he would use every means to secure the arrest and conviction of those who were guilty. The governor said also that he
reward of $1,000 (the limit under the statutes of the state) for the apprehension and conviction of the guilty parties.

A Walsenburg, Col., special says: Pietro Giabano, one of the men supposed to have been killed at Bear Creek, has been found. He was discovered by some Mexicans about 10 miles from the scene of the tragedy. His feet were frozen and he was in a pitiable condition from exposure, hunger and fright.
The sheriff was notified and took him to Pueblo, where he was placed in jail.
Consul Canoe has sent in the official testimony of the affair to the officials of his government at Washington. He is now making an investigation of his own.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 18.—
The police have been hotly pursuing Mrs. Wheeler, a woman long suspected of illegal practices, and now charged with a criminal operation by Annie
a sworn statement upon her deathbed charging Mrs. Wheeler with the crime.
Mrs. Wheeler escaped into Ohio, and the police at all towns between here and Cincinnati have been notified to look out for her. Joseph Tillis, a companion of Anna Frye, testifies to the truth of the affidavit, and is under arrest at Marietta, but refuses to come here without requisition papers. Mrs.
Wheeler is about 40 years old, heavy set, dark hair and eyes; wears dark

To Settle the Elks' Fight.

CHICAGO, March 18.—An effort to adjust the difficulty between the two branches of the Order of Elks will be made at a convention, which opened at the auditorium this morning. The convention, or rather, conference, is called by the Omaha lodge. It is claimed that representatives from nearly all of the lodges in the country will be present.
The Chicago lodge will not be represented. The members of the local lodge adhere to the grand lodge which met at Atlantic City last June and refuse to recognize that the Jamestown faction has any right to its constitution.

MADRID, March 18.—The Sagasta ministry has resigned in consequence of the trouble in the chamber of deputies, when all the reporters withdrew from the house, as a protest against the official defense made by the minister of war of the officers who attacked and wrecked the offices of El Globo, the organ of Senor Castelar. It is probable that Field Marshal Martinez Campos
will form a new cabinet.

ST. PAUL, March 18.—Mrs. Francis Sumner, a milliner, in lighting her fire tried a mixture of kerosene and gasoline, but as the fire did not even then start quickly she poured out more of the mixture from the can. The can exploded and was blown up in the air, knocking down a burning lamp, which also exploded. Mrs. Sumner and her niece, Miss Nellie Closson, have died of their injuries.

A Prince to Command.

YOKOHAMA, March 18.—It is officially announced that Prince Komatsu has been ordered to the front as commander-in-chief of the expeditionary army which

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 18.—The coroner's jury in the death of Max Samuels, the Pittsburg tin peddler who was found dead at Broadford last Friday night, has rendered a verdict of accidental death. Deputy Coroner Enoch, who held the inquest, says Samuels' body or clothing was not molested. About $50 in money and a watch and chain were in his pockets when the body was found. The deputy coroner says there is no evidence to uphold the theory that Samuels was murdered. The report that a band of tramps held up eight railroad watchmen is a fake.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

The country hopes that Secretary
peared.

If all the portraits now being pub-

Russia, and received the following.

through tariff on necessities which she
anywhere else. She wouldn't get a
cents), tea (12 cents), tobacco (85 cents),
whisky ($2.50). We put a protective

was so long ago that the oldest of politicians have forgotten all about it.
The man hunts the office these days,
wanting to know him. In addition
toil with enough energy to merit suc-

FATAL FIRE IN TOLEDO.

and Engines Damaged.

tally—The Property Loss Estimated at
Two Cars Consumed—Other Fires.

street on the dock front, has been
killing 12 men underneath it. Two of
Wabash.

56, painter, married, seven children,
skull crushed, internally injured; J. J.
ternally injured, killed instantly.

broken, arm crushed, skull fractured,
may die; Patrick McDonough, fireman,
recover; Martin Greenburg, car re-
Zimmerman, painter, legs sprained,
body bruised; Louis Becker, painter,
head bruised, shoulder sprained; Henry Gerding, car repairer, head bruised and cut; T. C. Laner, truck foreman, head
Becker, painter, head and shoulder cut.

cupola of the building and he ran to the office of the general foreman directly across from the roundhouse and
roof of the roundhouse.

When Fire Chief Mayo reached the
sent in a general alarm.

engines.

At this moment the southwest wall,
seen to totter outward from the lateral
building. The warning came too late,
of brick several feet high. That only
were poured on the smoking debris, and
began. Preston and Bowen were buried
a few hours afterwards.

jured. Leary, the machinist, was found to be the worst sufferer, and it was feared
he would scarcely live out the day.
probably all recover.

$100,000, probably insured. The roundhouse, which had a capacity of 20 locomotives, contained only six engines and
these are all badly damaged. A Wheel-
more and Ohio boxcar were consumed.

and Noble streets, occupied by the logg Manufacturing company and Bandeau

Holmes county infirmary, near this
place, has been destroyed by fire, caus-
inmates of the institution were rescued
with great difficulty, but all were taken out safely.

ments amounting to over $20,000.

Satisfied With Gov. McIntyre's Action in the Lynching Cases.

sions of satisfaction having been made
apprehension of the murderers of the Italians at Walsenburg, the diplomatic incident occasioned thereby is
Colorado. In this telegram Mr. Uhl
set forth the expression of appreciation manifested on the part of Baron
government at the earnest effort made by the executive of Colorado to arrest
the guilty parties.

The assistant secretary has received a reply from Governor McIntyre, in
statutes of the state for the apprehen-
parties.

A Walsenburg, Col., special says: Pietro Giabanco, one of the men suspected to have been killed at Bear Creek, has been found. He was discovered by
frozen and he was in a pitiable condition from exposure, hunger and fright.
The sheriff was notified and took him to Pueblo, where he was placed in jail.
Consul Cuneo has sent in the official
own.

The police have been badly puzzled by Mrs. Wheeler, a woman long suspected
with a criminal operation by Annie
charging Mrs. Wheeler with the crime.
Mrs. Wheeler escaped into Ohio, and
and Cincinnati have been notified to
look out for her. Joseph Tillis, a com-
truth of the affidavit, and is under arrest.
Marietta, but refuses to come here without requisition papers. Mrs.

ference, or rather conference, is called by the Omaha lodge. It is claimed that
has any right to its contention.

ministry has resigned in consequence of the trouble in the chamber of deputies,
when all the reporters withdrew from
the house, as a protest against the of-
wrecked the offices of El Globo, the organ of Senor Castelar. It is probable
will form a new cabinet.

start quickly she poured out more of the
ploded and was blown up in the air,
their injuries.

Peddler Samuels Not Murdered.

coroner's jury in the death of Max
was found dead at Broadford last Friday night, has rendered a verdict of accidental death. Deputy Coroner Ehardt,
eight railroad watchmen is a fake.

EAST CUBAIN TURMOIL

Fully 6,000 Insurgents Reported Under Arms.

SPANISH TROOPS BEING BEATEN.

A Most Deplorable Feature Is the Pillaging and Burning—Yellow Fever Will Help the Rebels Next Summer—Persons Shot For Their Opinions.

Key West, March 18.—A trustworthy report of the condition of affairs in the east end of Cuba is brought by a passenger on the steamer Macotte.

"I have traveled throughout the mountainous district constantly since the trouble began," said he, "and matters are now in a much worse condition than the beginning. The fighting started in a desultory and scattered fashion, but the forces gradually became crystallized and there are now fully 6,000 insurgents under arms. They are in a dozen or more detachments, but are giving the government no end of trouble. In many cases the Spanish troops have been beaten back with heavy loss. The most deplorable feature of the warfare is the pillaging and burning. The insurgents have gained confidence since the beginning of the trouble, and matters in the east end district are in almost as bad condition as during the war of 1895.

"Many leaders are springing up, and by force of their intellect and ability they have induced the insurgents not to hold on longer for the arrival of old leaders. The general opinion in Santiago is that if the insurgents can hold out until summer the yellow fever will help them greatly.

"It is said that both Pabi and Maso are confident of taking Santiago before October. The Spanish troops are guarding every road and nobody is allowed to pass without giving the strictest account of himself. It is as much as a man's life is worth in Santiago to talk in favor of the Cubans or tell the truth. Several persons have been shot on account of an expression of opinion.

"Instances where the Spaniards were defeated have been published as government victories. Four Spanish cruisers were in the harbor of Santiago one week ago, now there are but two guarding the eastern coast and one the southern.

"The passenger also said the revolt would kill business in Cuba for two years. Money is already scarce and prices are high. A panic is feared. It seems to be the general impression among the Spaniards that the United States feels bitter toward the Spanish government and would like nothing better than an excuse to seize the island, hence their hatred of the Americans. Nothing official has been received on the report of the Spanish cruiser firing on the Alliance. It is understood that the Spanish officials in Havana claim the Alliance was within three miles of shore and that the cruiser had a right to sink her on her refusal to halt."

Killed by a Robber.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Cornelius Stagg, proprietor of the Ingleside, a famous wayside resort near the ocean beach, has been shot and killed by one of two masked men, whose object was robbery. Entering the bar, in which several men were throwing dice, one robber covered the party while the other entered an adjoining room and ordered Stagg to go to the bar to produce the money bag, large sums being spent daily by visitors. Stagg at first resisted and the robber killed him. The masked men after securing the contents of the till, amounting to only $4, left.

Mrs. Payne's Funeral.
CLEVELAND, March 18.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Payne, wife of ex-United States Senator Henry B. Payne, was held Sunday afternoon from the family residence on Euclid avenue. The service, which was very simple, was conducted by Rev. Dr. H. C. Hayden of the First Presbyterian church. The interment was in the family lot at Lake View cemetery. Among those present were Col. Oliver H. Payne of New York and Perry Whitney, son of the ex-secretary of the navy. Mr. Whitney is in Egypt.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Frank McFarlane, a prominent member of the Chicago board of trade, has been found dead in Washington park. He had shot himself twice through the left breast. In a letter addressed to the public he says he had tried and failed so often since he came on the board that he was at last disheartened and ready to give up, that he met defeat again Saturday, which was more than he could endure, and concluded by warning all honest men to beware of the board of trade.

DEATH OF MRS. PEAKE.

A West End Lady's Sudden Demise—Heart Trouble the Cause.

Elizabeth, wife of John Peake, died at her home in West End, Saturday, after lying unconscious almost two days. Mrs. Peake has been subject to attacks of heart disease in the form of apoplexy, and has suffered with spinal and nervous trouble. She has been seized with heart trouble five times within a month, only a week ago being overcome while in her husband's store, when she was carried to her bed upstairs. She was around as usual in a short time and not until she was discovered unconscious in her bed Friday morning was it thought that she was seriously ill. She remained in a comatose condition until 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when death relieved her. She suffered with inward convulsions during her unconscious state. Mrs. Peake was a lady highly respected by the many residents of this city who knew her, and her sudden demise was a surprise and a shock to her friends, who, when they saw her at the marriage of her daughter three weeks ago, would have judged her as healthy as anyone in town.

Deceased was aged 44 years, her maiden name being Elizabeth Moore. She was married to John Peake in Cambridge church, England, on June 26, 1870, her home then being in Burslem and his in Tunstall. They came to this country on Sept. 5, 1871, and have since made East Liverpool their home. Mrs. Peake has assisted her husband in the grocery business for 19 years. She leaves, beside her husband, her mother, Mrs. Anne Bourne, of Greasy street, a brother, James Moore, and three children, Mrs. Clarence Snediker, John H., and William B. Peake.

Mrs. Peake was a consistent member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and a member of the Pythian Sisters. The funeral will take place from the church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Doctor Huston officiating, and the Pythian Sisters being in charge. Interment in Riverview cemetery.

Objected to the Poles.

The discussion over the location of the patrol box in East End threatens to come before council again, and the chances are bright for that body ordering it to be left in the out of the way place it now is. Saturday, Manager Swaney, of the local telephone system, sent his men to East End to move the box, as council had ordered, from near the new school building to a point near the passenger station. One hole was dug and a pole placed in it at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Mulberry street, but when the workmen came to dig a hole in front of W. C. Reed's place Mr. Reed objected, and it is said that other property owners along the line kicked. The lineman telephoned to Manager Swaney, with the result that he was ordered to pack up his outfit and return with the men. The vast majority of East End people want the box located near the station, where it would do the most good in case of fire or a fight, and the action of those who objected is freely condemned. A petition asking that the work go on is talked of.

The dispute, according to several East End people, is caused by the workmen wanting to locate the pole on Reed's property when it was expected that it would mark the line between the Reed and Allabaugh lots. Councilman Marshall will probably favor compelling the latter location.

The Money at Hand.

Mr. James Ballentine, of lower Fourth street, East Liverpool, has received the sum of $500 from the Macabees, on account of the death of his wife, who was a member of Golden Rod hive, No. 20, and also a member of the beneficial feature. This amount was promptly paid to the surviving husband just as soon as the necessary proof was furnished and legal forms complied with. The Hive is in a flourishing condition, new members being added weekly, and the ladies of East Liverpool are finding that it is an institution worth belonging to.

A Healthy Pauper (?)

Patrick Skelton called at the News Review office this morning, and protested vigorously because of an item which appeared in an irresponsible paper of the city the other evening. He is not a pauper, does not want charity, and is not in danger of dying of starvation. He has sons who would be only too glad to keep him if he needed it, and he thinks if he attends a funeral at all it will be a funeral of one of the supposititious paper's force.

No Truth in It.

Several days ago the rumor became current that Doctor Huston would resign his position as pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and would no longer be connected with this conference. A NEWS REVIEW reporter questioned him regarding the matter, and he said it was news to him. He knew nothing about any decision of this character. He would continue in the position as before. No reason can be assigned for the rumor.

As the blanks for reports to the collector of income tax become scattered through the city, the real force of the law is being felt, and consequently condemned.

Yesterday was St. Patrick's day and a few green ribbons were observed on the streets, although the occasion was not generally celebrated until today, when the color of the shamrock was everywhere.

The case of Machin against Bourne was dismissed in the court of Squire Rose this morning, the plaintiff failing to appear. Machin is a Steubenville man, who sued for a board bill amounting to $142.

Nelson Connell, who carries the mail from the railroad to the post-office was so unfortunate on Saturday night as to lose his pocketbook. It contained almost $20, and was lost between the railroad and the ice plant.

The meeting held in the interest of the American Bible society called a large congregation to the First Presbyterian church last night. Addresses were made by Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Herbert, George C. Murphy and Doctor Lee.

The effort to have McKinnon, Cartwright and Welsh pardoned out of the penitentiary has taken definite form, and the various attorneys are taking the required legal steps. George Shaw was in Lisbon today on business connected with the matter.

Baggage Master George Smith mourns the loss of four plump chickens from their coop near his residence on Robinson street. The fowls disappeared from their accustomed places a few nights ago as a result of a thief's visit. George is thankful, however, that the other two chickens were left.

Mr. and Mrs. John Powell arrived in East Liverpool from Pittsburgh on Saturday night last. Mr. Powell is the efficient and skillful pressman now in charge of the News Review press room, and will become a citizen of East Liverpool, intending going to housekeeping here just as soon as he can secure a suitable residence.

Owing to some neglect of the management the averages of the Eastern league were never made public until last week, but the delay did not have any effect upon the record of Curt Welsh last season. He played 108 games and has an average of .900. This shows one player in the league leading him, and he is tied with another for second place. As Welsh was the only one of the three to play the entire season it can easily be seen where he really belongs.

A prominent gentleman residing on Avondale street called at the News Review office on Saturday afternoon last, and gently murmured as follows: "Say to the members of council that we are very much obliged to them for so graciously ordering an electric light on Avondale street last summer. Of course we are aware that the aforesaid light has not been erected, but the thought that it will be, in the sweet after while, illumines our pathway with the bright and effulgent rays of hope."

The price lists and fine job work now being turned out at the News Review office are attracting much favorable comment in the city, merchants, business men and manufacturers expressing their delight and gratification at the workmanship and materials, and taking just local pride in the fact that the work being turned out here cannot be excelled by the leading houses in the larger cities of the country. Good wages secure good workmen, and good workmen take delight in using first-class material. These points are the secret of the success of our job department.

While the linemen and three assistants were engaged Saturday in stringing the private telephone wire of the Ohio Valley Gas company across the river at a point below the city, the wire caught on a snag, and with a jerk brought the boat broadside against the current. It was seen by the occupants that either they must go in the river or the reel of wire would have to go overboard, and without any delay the wire was cast out of the skiff and the boat rowed back to shore. All but about 25 feet of the wire was recovered, but the reel was lost. The men consider that they had a narrow escape.

who conducted the autopsy on Saturday night last. We found catarrh of the stomach, congestion of the kidneys and liver. We also discovered catarrh of the bowels. We found no irritant or corrosive poison, and no other organ was diseased. The womb was normal, and no evidence of any disturbances. This is as far as we were able to go without a chemical analysis. I think there is no further indication of poison than I mentioned. I believe she took the Marquis powders. I do not know their ingredients. There are headache powders sold that would produce death, and the majority on sale are very dangerous if taken in large quantities. The visible effects when these are taken in overdoses is paralysis of the heart, blueness of the lips and finger tips. I saw no such indication at the post mortem, as they would pass away after death. These powders very often contain antiphebrin or salicilate of soda. These ingredients are poison if taken in large quantities. If five or six powders were taken death might be the result. I can not tell from the result of the post mortem what caused death.

Dr. W. A. Hobbs—Deceased was a stranger to me. I was called at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, and found her vomiting and very ill. I inquired and found she had taken some headache powders, and prescribed for these symptoms. I did not see the powders. She told me she had taken a whole box, five or six, but a few minutes apart, and that she had gotten the powders at Pancake's. I never use these powders in my practice, and don't know what they are composed of. They are poison if taken in an overdose. From her condition I would say she had taken an overdose of antiphebrin. A fatal dose of this would produce paralysis of the heart, and death depends upon the condition of the heart at that time. Some people have died after taking five grains, and some recovered after taking an ounce. Mental worry would cause excitement. At 9 o'clock on Friday night the blueness had disappeared, and diarrhea was controlled although she was still vomiting. I saw her again about midnight and she was dying. I assisted at the post mortem by order of Squire Rose, Doctors McFarland, Tarr and Holland being the other physicians present. We found a discoloration of the stomach, a grayish deposit, and gray patches floating around. There was congestion of the kidneys, stomach and liver. I would not like to say anything regarding the poison until the stomach is analyzed. The woman was well developed physically."

The next witness called was Charles A. Pancake. He said he was a druggist doing business on Fourth street, and had been in business since 1890. "I am not positive that I saw Ida May Sutton. I sold several headache powders on Friday afternoon, but only one certain kind. This lady was not very tall, heavy set, dark hair and wore a plush coat. I think she had dark eyes. I can't recall whether it was 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon or the same time on Friday. They were Marquis headache powders. I have worked in Marquis' store at Lisbon, and knew what the powders are made of. The formula has changed since then. Marquis told me so by telephone, and said he would send me down a description. They then contained salicylate of sodium, citrate caffeine and phenacetine. A brother of Doctor Marquis in Canton puts up the powders. I don't think the lady ever got any other medicine in my store."

Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Goodwin were recalled, and by their description the purchaser of the powders was identified as Miss Sutton. This was all the squire could do at present, and the hearing was adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Tricked.

A magistrate who prided himself on his sense of justice was called to estimate the damages which a cow had done in a garden. He viewed the premises and gave liberal damages, whereupon he was introduced to the marauding cow, which turned out to be his own, whereat the conscientious magistrate was enraged.—London Globe.

It Looks Like Murder.

CAREY, O., March 18.—H. D. Reynolds, a prominent business man of this place, is missing under the most sensational and mysterious circumstances, every indication pointing to his murder and subsequent taking away by burglars. Mrs. Reynolds, who had been away from home, found the home in confusion and private documents of her husband scattered with blood. A bloody club was also found in his room. Money and valuables had been taken and no trace of Mr. Reynolds' body has been found.

Dr. W. A. Hobbs—Deceased was a stranger to me. I was called at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon, and found her vomiting and very ill. I inquired and found she had taken some headache powders, and prescribed for these symptoms. I did not see the powders. She told me she had taken a whole box, five or six, but a few minutes apart, and that she had gotten the powders at Pancake's. I never use these powders in my practice, and don't know what they are composed of. They are poison if taken in an overdose. From her condition I would say she had taken an overdose of antiphebrin. A fatal dose of this would produce paralysis of the heart, and death depends upon the condition of the heart at that time. Some people have died after taking five grains, and some recovered after taking an ounce. Mental worry would cause excitement. At 9 o'clock on Friday night the blueness had disappeared, and diarrhea was controlled although she was still vomiting. I saw her again about midnight and she was dying. I assisted at the post mortem by order of Squire Rose, Doctors McFarland, Tarr and Holland being the other physicians present. We found a discoloration of the stomach, a grayish deposit, and gray patches floating around. There was congestion of the kidneys, stomach and liver. I would not like to say anything regarding the poison until the stomach is analyzed. The woman was well developed physically."

The next witness called was Charles A. Pancake. He said he was a druggist doing business on Fourth street, and had been in business since 1890. "I am not positive that I saw Ida May Sutton. I sold several headache powders on Friday afternoon, but only one certain kind. This lady was not very tall, heavy set, dark hair and wore a plush coat. I think she had dark eyes. I can't recall whether it was 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon or the same time on Friday. They were Marquis headache powders. I have worked in Marquis' store at Lisbon, and knew what the powders are made of. The formula has changed since then. Marquis told me so by telephone, and said he would send me down a description. They then contained salicylate of sodium, citrate caffeine and phenacetine. A brother of Doctor Marquis in Canton puts up the powders. I don't think the lady ever got any other medicine in my store."

Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Goodwin were recalled, and by their description the purchaser of the powders was identified as Miss Sutton. This was all the squire could do at present, and the hearing was adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Tricked.

A magistrate who prided himself on his sense of justice was called to estimate the damages which a cow had done in a garden. He viewed the premises and gave liberal damages, whereupon he was introduced to the marauding cow, which turned out to be his own, whereat the conscientious magistrate was enraged.—London Globe.
